Uta Halee Academy instills the values of empathy and responsibility to help their students become thoughtful, compassionate leaders. Recently, members of UHA's GROWL Club (the Student Government), decided to give back to youth in the community by initiating a drive for school supplies that would be given to a local elementary school.

GROWL students decorated large boxes as school buses that were placed throughout UHA's campus. Then, every student encouraged staff, their families and members of their teams to donate school supplies to support the cause. The drive collected several "bus" boxes of school supplies- tripling the amount that they had collected in previous years. In fact, there were so many donations that the GROWL Club decided to donate to two schools instead of just one.

Teachers and students who received the donations were touched and thrilled. Due to the excellent leadership skills displayed UHA's GROWL Club, the principal from one school, Hartman Elementary, invited our young women back to tutor the elementary students in reading and math.
